MEDNARODNI DAN MUZEJEV IN DAN OČARLJIVIH RASTLIN – PROST VSTOP V JULIANO

Alpski botanični vrt Juliana je dislocirana enota Prirodoslovnega muzeja Slovenije, kjer si lahko ogledate živo zbirko rastlin, značilnih za Slovenijo, predvsem njen alpski in kraški svet. Leta 1977 je Mednarodni muzejski svet ICOM zaznamoval 18. maj kot Mednarodni dan muzejev. Prav tako 18. maj pa je evropska organizacija za raziskave rastlin EPSO (ang. European Plant Science Organisation) določila za Dan očarljivih rastlin (ang. Fascination of Plants Day). Očarljive rastline si oglejte tudi v Juliani!

CVETJE ZA PRIHODNJE RODOVE

V letu 2024 zaznamujemo 100-letnico prvega zavarovanega območja na ozemlju Slovenije - Alpskega varstvenega parka, predhodnika Triglavskega narodnega parka. Tudi Alpski botanični vrt Juliana je del tega edinega narodnega parka v Sloveniji, ki danes obsega večji del Julijskih Alp oz. kar štiri odstotke slovenskega ozemlja. Zaznamovanje 100-letnice poteka pod sloganom »Varstvo je obstoj« in tudi v Juliani varujemo. Na vodenju boste tako spoznali zavarovane, redke in ogrožene rastline, ki jih v vrtu žive ohranjamo za prihodnje rodove.

Strokovnjaki za ptice (ornitologi) jih lahko prepoznajo že po oglašanju in nekatere lahko redno opazujete tudi v Alpskem botaničnem vrtu Juliana v Trenti. Vabljeni na spoznavanje ptic z ornitologom Daretom Fekonjo iz Slovenskega centra za obročkanje ptic, ki deluje v okviru Prirodoslovnega muzeja Slovenije.

ZAKLAD ŠKRATA COJZKA

Alpski botanični vrt Juliana leži v osrčju Triglavskega narodnega parka in se pridružuje praznovanju 100. obletnice prvega zavarovanega območja na ozemlju Slovenije - Alpskega varstvenega parka. Zaznamovanje 100-letnice poteka pod sloganom »Varstvo je obstoj«. Občudovanje in varovanje narave pa se začne že pri otrocih. Zato vabimo predvsem družine, da v Juliani obišejo škrata Cojzka in z njim odkrijejo zanimivosti iz sveta rastlin in živali. Če bodo naravo cenili že otroci, jo bodo tudi varovali kot odrasli. Na delavnici bodo družine s pomočjo zemljevida iskale zaklad škrata Cojzka, pravilno rešene naloge pa jih bodo pripeljale do skrinje s sladkim presenečenjem.

The observance of the 100th anniversary takes place under the slogan "Conservation is existence", and Juliana conserves, too. During the guided tour, one can learn about protected, rare and endangered plants, which are kept alive in the garden for future generations.

The latter embraces a large part of the Julian Alps, and you can watch about 120 bird species in it. Bird experts (ornithologists) can often recognize them solely by their vocalization, and some of them can regularly be observed in the Alpine Botanical Garden of Juliana in the Trenta

Valley. You are invited to learn about birds with ornithologist Dare Fekonja from the Slovenian Bird Ringing Centre, which functions within the Slovenian Museum of Natural History.

THE TREASURE OF ZOISY THE DWARF

The Alpine botanical garden Juliana is situated in the heart of Triglav National Park and celebrates the 100th anniversary of the first protected area in Slovenian territory – the Alpine Conservation Park. The centennial celebration is taking place under the slogan "Conservation is existence". Admiring and protecting nature starts with children. This is the reason why we are inviting particularly families to visit Zoisy the Dwarf in Juliana and discover some special features from the world of plants and animals together with him. If children will respect and cherish nature already at this age, they will protect it as adults, too. Aided by a map, families will search for the treasure of Zoisy the Dwarf, with correctly solved tasks leading them to a chest with a sweet surprise.
